Be Joyful Always ...

*Be joyful always, pray continually, give thanks in all circumstances for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus.
1 Thessalonians 5:16-18*

Last Saturday, about 40 Cursillistas met at the Bishop Claggett Center for our Annual Diocesan Ultreya. This year our theme was Rekindle the Fire, and we certainly did as we lifted our voices in song; listened to talks on Piety, Study, and Action; and shared our personal stories of how God is working in us. It was also a time to elect a new Assistant Lay Director and to pass on the Lay Director "torch". God has truly blessed us as faithful Cursillista, Bill Miller, assumes the role of Lay Director and by calling our brother in Christ, Dave Wissman, as Assistant Lay Director.

Our joy, prayers, and thankfulness best describe that day; these leaders; and also my feelings as I reflect on my two years of serving our Lord as Lay Director for Maryland Episcopal Cursillo. God has truly blessed me through Cursillo, and I was blessed to be able to answer His call by leading the Cursillo movement in Maryland. I will continue to pray continuously for Cursillo, to do my best to reflect the joy it has brought me, to thank God for the movement, and to work tirelessly to pass it on to others. And I am confident that you all will do the same. Ultreya!

— Nancy Horkan, MD 55
Outgoing MEC Lay Director

The purpose of Cursillo is to help those in the Church understand their individual callings to be Christian leaders.

MARYLAND EPISCOPAL CURSILLO WEEKEND 105

“Call on Jesus” October 24 - 27, 2013

It is hard to believe the MD 105 weekend is less than two weeks away! The team has been meeting, planning, singing, and, of course, praying that the Holy Spirit will guide us through the weekend as we “Call on Jesus.”

It is my fervent hope that the entire Cursillo community will embrace the candidates by showering them with prayer and palanca and joining them at Mananitas and Clausura. I know that, with your support, our future Cursillistas will leave the weekend to begin their Fourth Day with a clearer understanding, not only of God’s love for them, but also the love of the entire Cursillo community. DeColores!

Witness Talk - Evangelization of Environments

It dawned on me a couple of weeks ago that I have a new environment in my life. Actually, I've been in this new environment for a number of months but it was only recently that I thought of it as a "new environment". This environment isn't one I'm studying, trying to discern who the leaders are and who might benefit from the Cursillo method, but it is a place I can take Christ. This new environment is my Friday morning Weight Watchers meeting.

At each meeting, we spend a lot of time celebrating. First, we celebrate, corporately, our weight losses for the week. The leader asks everyone who's lost between zero and one pound to raise their hands, and we clap and cheer for everyone whose hand is raised. Then it's one pound to two pounds – there's more hands raised, more clapping and cheering, and on and on it goes. Then it's time to hand out the "awards". If you've lost your first five pounds, you get a bookmark, and for each five-pound increment, you get a star to put on your bookmark. At Weight Watcher's meetings I've been to in the past, both here and in Iowa, you would sit in your chair and the leader would come to you and hand you your bookmark or your star.

However, Judy, the leader for my Friday morning meeting, has had a debilitating stroke, and so we go up front, to her, and get our bookmarks and stars. And once we're up in front, Judy asks us to share with the group a tip – something that's helped us lose the weight. Normally, tips are things like "drink your water", or "exercise" or "write down everything you eat". Since I've lost 65 pounds, I've been up in front of the group, giving tips, quite a few times. Sharing in this way helps you get to know one another on a superficial level. They know I have a supportive husband at home, they know I made a deal with my doctor to try and get my blood pressure under control with diet and exercise rather than medication, they know I'm a breast cancer survivor. They know things about me, but they don't really know me, they don't really know who the Linda behind the nametag is. They don't know I'm a Christian. And even though we spend a little less than an hour a week together, and perhaps I could be excused for not spending that time evangelizing, I decided that I wasn't living up to my baptismal covenant by ignoring this opportunity.

With the realization that this was a new environment, which I should be permeating with and for Christ, came also, the conviction that I should do something! That I could do something! That, by gum, I would do something! God willing, of course! So, the last time I was called up front to get my star and give a tip, this is what I said: One of the things I find most helpful in losing weight is PRAYER. I tend to be obsessed with food, and I also have a tendency to overeat, and I think both are a sin, so I confess that to God. I ask God to forgive me for worshiping food and making food a god. Then I thank God for the weight that I have lost. I thank Him for Weight Watchers, and for the support I get here, and for the support I have at home. And I give thanks that I'm out there walking – because that's when I pray – when I'm walking and getting my daily exercise. I thank God that I got off my butt and I'm out there moving, and I especially thank Him that I CAN walk. Our leader, Judy, is a prime example of just how quickly it can be taken away from you, and I recognize and thank God for the blessing, and the gift of a body that works. Then I ask God to help me remain strong and motivated, to be with me as I choose what and how much I'll eat, to help me remember to drink my water, to get out and walk every day, to be with me always on this weight loss journey.

I went on to tell them that I wasn't trying to convert or offend anyone, only tell them what's working for me. I also told them that God wasn't losing this weight FOR me - that God helps those who help themselves. I shared with them that if I can go to a brunch and eat salad, fresh fruit, a dab of scrambled eggs and steamed vegetables, and walk right by the sausage and bacon and hash browns and Belgium waffles, well, if they really knew me, they'd know it was a miracle, that there was definitely something supernatural at work!

Witness Talk - Gospel Response

When I returned to my seat, one of the other ladies patted me. And the lady who always sits in front of me told me I did a good job. And after the meeting, another woman told me she also prayed when she walked and that what I'd said touched her. And that's what I wanted to do – touch people – touch them for Christ.

Talk presented by Linda England at a Grand Ultreya of the Heartland Episcopal Cursillo, Diocese of Kansas and Diocese of West Missouri (Source: National Episcopal Cursillo website)

Gospel Response

One of the most difficult Rollos to give during the weekend is the one on Environments. In the first place, most people think of "environment" as the natural world around us; and when the speaker starts to talk about "other environments" most of us get a little squeamish. Nonetheless, we all live in and change environments several times each day. In John's Gospel Jesus said, "My Father is still working, and I also am working." [1] What Jesus is saying between the lines is that, as his disciples, we too, are always to be working. We live in the kingdom that groans for its completion and part of what disciples do is to co-operate with the Holy Spirit and be open to opportunities in their environment to witness to God's grace and action in this process.

St. Francis of Assisi said that we are to preach the Gospel at all times using words if necessary. What he means is that everything we do, from brushing our teeth in the morning, to exercise, to work, to love, to going to Weight Watchers we do as followers of Jesus. Sometimes it ends with an invitation to join us at church or a small group or something like that; but most of the time it means sharing our prayers and thanks to God for being there for us. There isn't any environment in which the Holy Spirit is not with us. In everything that we do, say, or think the presence of God permeates our heart, mind and spirit.

Disciples walk in the footsteps of the master, that is, they adhere to the teachings they hear, take them to heart and emulate the teacher. As disciples of Jesus Christ we are called to follow his path and to be open to any opportunity God presents to us to witness.

Linda didn't have to quote from the Bible or invite people to church or a small group. She witnessed to the effect the grace of God has in her life. She acknowledged that losing weight is not something she can do through her own will power, but rather, she relies on God's grace to accomplish her goal.

Isn't that true for each of us? God gives us the talents and skills to do something, we have to participate by exercising those skills and work at bettering them. God also gives us the grace to overcome temptation and all we have to do is reach out and take the grace that surrounds us. This is what Linda has done. She preached the Gospel both in action and word.

Prayer for the Gift of the Holy Spirit

Come, Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of Your faithful and kindle in us the fire of Your Love. Send forth Your Spirit and we shall be created, and You shall renew the face of the earth. O God, who by the light of the Holy Spirit did instruct the hearts of the faithful, Grant that by the same Holy Spirit, we may be truly wise and ever enjoy His consolations; Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

A Statement from the National Episcopal Cursillo, May 2008

Cursillo has always kept its eyes firmly focused on Jesus and on the Mission. One of the principles of the Cursillo movement is that:

We focus on Christ and His resurrection power in our lives, transforming us into the people He would have us be.

Theological disputes and political issues have no part in our agenda.

The Cursillo Movement is a movement that brings together all people, whether they might consider themselves to have a liberal or conservative Christian philosophy or somewhere in between, for the common good of promoting Jesus Christ and God's Mission. It is Christ-centered and Christ-focused. The Policy of the National Episcopal Cursillo Committee is that it will not be an organization with a political or social agenda. National Episcopal Cursillo is a movement of the Episcopal Church.

We recognize, however, that a number of individuals with connections and interest in the Episcopal Cursillo Movement are no longer affiliated with the Episcopal Church. As a sign of reconciliation, we welcome those still able, as individuals, to be in communion with the local Episcopal Diocesan Bishop and fellow Cursillistas, whether lay or ordained, to participate in the activities of the Cursillo Movement. Furthermore, and always at the Diocesan Bishop's discretion, we encourage an openness to their continued participation and interest in the activities of the Episcopal Cursillo. It should be understood by all that as a part of their participation, they agree to do so fully for the advancement of Cursillo, be supportive of the mission of Episcopal Cursillo, and agree that they will not promote any political agenda.

What is clear is that National Episcopal Cursillo was created to serve the Episcopal Church in the United States, and we are licensed by the Roman Catholic Church to do that. Despite our personal theological and political views, we are focused on knowing Christ and making Him known to others. That is our call and in doing it lays our greatest joy. Ultreya! Ultreya!! Let us get on with the day's apostolic action. Let us all pray for the Church and one another everyday.
